

CSAP's Southwest CAPT Prevention Funding Resources on the Internet

January 2002

Mike Lowther, Director

Debbie Blaslar, Associate Director

Providing support and resources for developing knowledge and expertise among prevention professionals and practitioners

Internet Funding Resources

LaDonna Coy, Coordinator, Product Development and Tech Transfer Bonny Million, Communications Specialist.
Edited by Glenda Lewin Hufnagel, Ph.D., Editor

Developing capacity – two words on the minds of many in substance abuse prevention these days. Where does one go to find resources to support a developing coalition or organization? Where are the best sources for funding substance abuse prevention initiatives, projects, and programs? This Prevention Brief provides a selection of web resources to support prevention service providers, community coalitions, and organizations in their work.

Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA)

www.samhsa.org

SAMHSA is the lead Federal agency charged with strengthening the capacity of the Nation's health care system to provide substance abuse prevention, addictions treatment and mental health services for Americans experiencing or at risk for mental illness or substance abuse. Snapshot, a publication of SAMHSA, gives a preview of anticipated fiscal year 2001 funding opportunities, describing programs that rely upon the creativity and innovation of the substance abuse and mental health services communities.

Center for Substance Abuse Prevention (CSAP)

www.samhsa.gov/centers/csap/csap.html

SAMHSA's CSAP serves as the nation's focal point for efforts to identify and promote effective strategies to prevent substance abuse, whether use of illicit drugs, misuse of legal medications, use of tobacco, or excessive or illegal use of alcohol. With grantees representing states, communities, and organizations at the national, regional and local levels, CSAP's grant activities promote the development, application, and dissemination of new knowledge in substance abuse prevention.

Department of Education

www.ed.gov/funding.html

The Department of Education funds programs addressing child abuse prevention, abuse of children with disabilities, parent education, and research and training programs concerning child maltreatment and child welfare through its Offices of Elementary and Secondary Education, Special Education and Rehabilitative Services, and Educational Research and Improvement. <http://www.ed.gov/offices/OESE/program.html>

Within OESE, the Compensatory Education Programs Office,

Office of Indian Education, Office of Migrant Education, and the Safe and Drug-Free Schools Programs Office address child abuse and neglect prevention, family support, and related child well-being issues. <http://www.ed.gov/offices/OSERS>

Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention

www.ojjdp.ncjrs.org

OJJDP provides funding to states, territories, localities, and private organizations through block grants and discretionary funding. Block funding, through regular Formula Grants and State Challenge and Prevention money, goes to states and territories. Juvenile Justice Specialists administer funding through subgrants to states and localities.

Federal Register

www.access.gpo.gov/su_docs/aces/aces140.html

This site offers the official daily publication for rules, proposed rules, and funding notices of federal agencies and organizations.

Other Resources

Join Together's Funding News

www.jointogether.org/sa/resources/funding

Easy-to-use grant news and tips, grant announcements listed by summary view and deadline view, and current links to follow the money to online foundations and federal agencies.

Nonprofit Resources Catalogue

www.clark.net/pub/pwalker/fundraising_and_Giving/

Fundraising and Giving. Award-winning site developed by Phillip A. Walker with more than 200 links which include funding sources, foundations, and corporate contributions. Updated monthly.

The Foundation Center

www.fdcenter.org/

The Foundation Center's mission is to support and improve institutional philanthropy by promoting public understanding of the field and helping grantseekers succeed.

Grant Search and Information

www.silcom.com/%7Epaladin/grants.html

The Paladin Group works with non-profits, for-profits, and governmental agencies in the fields of alcohol and other drug abuse and the criminal justice system. Specialties include designing projects and programs, particularly those that are large and involve multiple agencies in collaboration and leading to a grant or contract request, or preparing a bid and/or proposal for a federal, state, or local program.

Grantscapewww.grantscape.com/

Through this site, Grantscape offers fund raising and management resources for grantseekers and nonprofit executives.

The Grantsmanship Centerwww.tgcgrantproposals.com/

This resource is designed to help nonprofit organizations and government agencies write better grant proposals and develop better programs.

GrantsNetwww.os.dhhs.gov/progorg/grantsnet

GrantsNet is a tool for finding and exchanging information about U.S. Department of Health and Human Services and other selected Federal grant programs.

Internet Resources for Grants and Foundationswww.ala.org/acrl/resmay97.html

The American Library Association reviewed and selected over 30 sites that provide an overview of grants and foundations.

School Grantswww.schoolgrants.org/

School Grants is an award winning website for PK-12 funding opportunities and includes tips, opportunities, discussion groups, consulting services, sample proposals, and a newsletter.

Grant Proposal.comwww.grantproposal.com

This website is committed to providing free resources for both advanced grantwriting consultants and inexperienced non-profit staff. Site includes sections on inquiry letters, research, advice from funders, tips, and how to get started.

FoundationsCouncil on Foundationswww.cof.org/

Council on Foundations is a non-profit coalition of grant-making foundations and corporations whose goal is to promote responsible and effective philanthropy. Site covers general information on foundations, including how to start a foundation, legislative and public policy watch, and foundation homepages.

Charles Stewart Mott Foundationwww.mott.org/about/process.htm

The Mott Foundation is a grant-making organization whose mission is to support efforts that promote a just, equitable, and sustainable society.

The MacArthur Foundationwww.macfdn.org

The MacArthur Foundation is a private, independent grantmaking institution dedicated to helping groups and individuals foster lasting improvement in the human condition. Among the areas of interest is development of healthy individuals and effective communities; peace within and among nations; and supporting healthy human societies. The Foundation supports research, policy development, dissemination, education and training, and practice.

The Carnegie Foundationwww.carnegie.org

Carnegie Corporation of New York is a general-purpose, grantmaking foundation, awarding grants of approximately $60 million each year to nonprofit organizations and institutions for projects that are broadly educational in nature and that show promise of having national or international impact.

Benton Foundationwww.benton.org/About/foundation2.html

The Benton Foundation mobilizes networks of researchers, practitioners and trainers to build the communications capacity of nonprofit organizations. Facilitating these networks to share lessons, resources and training methods, Benton culls "best practices" and "lessons learned" to support the effective use of online communications by the nonprofit sector. In some instances, it offers financial and technical support to nonprofits to advance their use of critical communications tools.

Annie E. Casey Foundationwww.aecf.org

Working with neighborhoods, state and local governments, the Foundation provides grants to public and nonprofit organizations to strengthen the support services, social networks, physical infrastructure, employment, self-determination, and economic vitality of distressed communities.

The Robert Wood Johnson Foundation (RWJF)www.rwjf.org/index.jsp

RWJF, the largest U.S. foundation devoted to improving the health and health care of all Americans, funds grantees through both multi-site "national programs" and single-site projects.